

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Are growth hormones used in raising Tanmiah chickens?

All Tanmiah chickens are free from any growth hormones. All our farms follow the natural growth cycle of chickens.

What quality controls are applied on Tanmiah farms?

All our chickens are locally raised and corn-fed, and our processes are firmly controlled by expert technicians. We constantly improve our production and safety policies and procedures, while adopting cutting edge technologies in our integrated operations to provide our valued consumers with a premium quality product, free of artificial preservatives and hormones.

What are Tanmiah's quality credentials?

Tanmiah's facilities utilize processing technology sourced from global manufacturers and focus on safety and quality. Our processing plants are evaluated and awarded quality certificates dependant on the nature of operations at each facility. In particular, all Tanmiah facilities have been evaluated and awarded quality certificates from SGS (formerly known as Société Générale de Surveillance). A notable example is the primary processing plant of Tanmiah in Shaqra, which is the first and only facility in the Kingdom to have been certified and awarded Grade A by the British Retail Consortium (BRC) for food quality and safety. All the further processed facilities in Riyadh, Jeddah, and UAE have also been BRC certified in addition to receiving Hazard Analysis Critical Control Point (HACCP) and ISO 9001:2015 and 22000 (International Organisation for Standards) certifications.

What other recognitions and awards has Tanmiah won?

GCC consumers voted Tanmiah as Product of the Year in 2019 for its fresh chicken range. Tanmiah was the first Saudi Arabian company to be enrolled in the prestigious 140 Club for poultry productivity and in the further processed category the company has received Quality Awards from brands such as Burger King, Dairy Queen and Subway.
